

EVELINA ROLÓN

PROFESSIONAL HARPIST

BACKGROUND

Harpist born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, in 1988. I have been making my way on the professional music scene for more than 24 years now. I have appeared in various TV shows and have performed in almost every concert hall, theater and club in and outside of Buenos Aires. I was hired by the Municipal art and culture Institute of Durango, Mexico, to dictate harp lessons. I have performed in many festivals across Argentina, Mexico and Sweden. I also have many years of experience from playing for guests at different luxurious hotels around the world.

Other relevant projects

Once with me, once without me (May 2016)

A contemporary dance project by Pam Tanowitz with Dan Siegler in charge of the musical arrangement. I was contacted by Siegler and performed in their live presentation at The Faena Art in Buenos Aires.

Quantum orchestra (May 2015)

The Quantum Orchestra is a large stable symphony orchestra that integrates acoustic and electric instruments, making possible the execution of contemporary popular music. Directed by Lucio Bruno Videla. We performed at SHA theater in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Texas Rising (Sep 2014)

Texas Rising is a Hollywood-produced mini series that aired on History Channel. The series is directed by Rolland Joffe and filmed in Mexico. I was acting as a harpist in Casa Blanca during Texas revolution in 1835 alongside various famous actors like Bill Paxton and Brendan Fraser.

AMBITION

As a musician I want to be traveling and keep on building my reputation all around the world. My goal as a performer is always to create the best possible ambience for my audience by showcasing the versatility of my instrument. I hope to get the possibility to keep developing myself as a musician by performing for different kinds of audiences, playing in various projects and experiencing new types of venues like cruise ships or big arenas.
